RE: Community Based Accountability Systems Update

During the School Board meeting on Monday, November 26th, I will be providing an overview of our work thus far with the TPAC (Texas Public Accountability Consortium) organization and reviewing some of the pieces within building a structure of a community-based accountability system within a district. This presentation will align with the goals from our superintendent, Mr. Hunt, as well as our goal within the District Improvement Plan to investigate and explore measures of a community based accountability system to showcase evidence of learning.
