Site Council meetings minutes for NBHS

The NBHS staff has meet on Oct. 5, 12, 19, and 26 with the four unit Treatment Manager's to discuss our at-risk students living on "their" unit so specific instructional strategies are developed based on observed behavior or need for each focus student.

A range of behaviors from acting out in class, to dis-engagement or just blatant defiance are identified and then instructional strategies are shared and or developed to minimize the behavior while improving the learning. If the behaviors are not observed in some classes, yet are observed in others, we explore the differences and attempted to develop strategies that minimize the negative while improving the positive. Unit Managers will engaged in council, accountability and additional resources for their at-risk youth.

The outcomes are varied; some students have transitioned to their next program, others have adjusted to the strategy and are more engaged now than weeks ago and a few remain resistant and continue acting out.

Have attached transcript data and first quarter 2015-2016 student data that was shared with all teachers.

November is a new month with some new students, some departing students and new opportunities to affect change.

Respectfully submitted,

Brent W. Workley
