Summary:

In compliance with guidelines established by the State Board of Education, an official instructional materials committee was approved by the GCISD Board of Trustees in October of 2025. The instructional materials committee participated in the selection process with members who represented various grade levels and programs within GCISD.

Each publisher presented to the committee over a two-month period. The committee members conducted an in-depth review of the resources and completed a rubric for each one. Teacher and community feedback opportunities were made available in January 2026. Both digital and print materials were available for review.

The results were reviewed by instructional leadership and a selection was made based on alignment with the TEKS, GCISD curriculum, and teacher/community feedback. The publisher's resource that was selected and is recommended is SAVVAS

Envisions Texas Mathematics
