I am pleased to announce the second episode of CLASS, which is an acronym for Continuous Learning and Student Success and developed jointly between the Academic Services Department and Ken McMullen in the Communications Department, is ready for broadcast. CLASS showcases the best of what is happening in our classrooms. The second episode will showcase podcasts created by students in one of our k-4 schools, one upper elementary school and one middle school.

Please consider adding this item to the Instruction portion of the April 12, Board of Education meeting. Thank you for considering this request.
