Executive Summary:	We are pleased to share the outstanding results from the HOSA State Leadership Conference. Our student competed against 20-30 of the top competitors across Texas and demonstrated exceptional skill, professionalism, and dedication. As a result of her performance, one student has qualified to compete in the HOSA International Leadership Conference. THS had a national qualifier, Shamyia Miller (Personal Care). Participation at the national level is a significant honor and extends beyond competition. The student will engage in leadership workshops, network with established entrepreneurs and industry professionals, have opportunities for scholarship awards and have the opportunity to participate in knowledge testing programs. These experiences will further enhance her professional, leadership, and career-ready skills. This achievement reflects the four years of hard work and commitment of this student and is a testament to the leadership and dedication of her advisors, Elizabeth

Maybin and Sherri Humphrey. In addition to these teachers, the entire health science team has provided exceptional training and preparation to her for both competition and real-world readiness. These teachers are Heather Bouvier, Kim Compton, and Sarah Ponce.
