

Wk	Who brought their A-GAME this week?	How did they bring their A-GAME?
Patty Perez	Tom M.	Tom Thank you for brining your A-Game and dancing at the All School Dance at Highland with the teachers. You jumped right in and showed off your moves without even knowing the choreography.
Matilda Guri	Caitlin Page	For Caitlin, who has been so supportive, popping into the classes weekly, checking in with me and supporting with materials and ideas. A huge help with a student who truly needed 1:1 support. Her teamwork, care, and dedication have made a very positive difference.
Allyson Sussman	Julie Kenning	Julie helped modify a low tech AAC binder for a student to match his strengths. Her dedication, collaboration, and support for her students is so clear.
Amanda Hagerty	Alex Senior	.Sunny shared a video of Alex working with a student with motor needs. He made a cause-and-effect beach ball activity. He used PVC piping to mold a holder for an upright leaf blower with a beach ball on top. The student hit the connected switch to the leaf blower, and made the beach ball be thrown up in the air. The student was smiling from ear to ear.
Grace Hay	ALL of the staff in Pod 4	Everyone is always so willing to help with any of my students! Whether it's a simple hello to my students in the morning or a few words of encouragement to me or my paraprofessionals; I know that we have a great team here at Molloy. Everyone is happy to assist and will do so without me even asking! Thank you all!
Grace Hay	Andrea Christoforou	Andrea works so amazingly with all of my students. She has built such a great rapport with them throughout the years. Andrea goes above and beyond to make sure all of my students' needs are being met even if they are not directly related to speech. You are amazing Andrea!
Grace Hay	Vivian Medrano	Vivian has such a calm presence that really helps my students to succeed. She is very flexible with any schedule changes and adapts quickly. Whether it's a location change, a student's absence, or a student needing a little extra support I know that I can count on her no matter what. You are amazing Vivian!
