A. Board Action on Superintendent's 2013-2014 Proposed Budget

- Declining enrollment versus a steady budget was discussed. Although the enrollment is declining, funds are being spent increasing student achievement through professional development and extended learning programs.
- It was noted that the Republic Town Committee will be offering a books scholarship for a graduating senior.
- Administration appears top heavy and how is this supported as grants money diminishes was clarified by reviewing the details of the proposed budget.
- There was appreciation of the continued support for professional development, continued extended learning opportunities and student achievement.
- The Learning Academy is no longer under the Bloomfield High School accounting codes. It is a standalone accounting entry because of interest by other districts to have students attend creating income from the out-of-district students.
- Specific line entries were clarified and justified.
- Health insurance and pension increases were discussed.
