It takes a team to help the student grow. Collaboration is important in order to be on the same page and to help carry out the student's goals.

Tell me something interesting or funny about yourself:

PAEC Academy at Divine Infant

On November 1st, the raffle baskets were sent home with students. We gave away 20 baskets and made a profit of $559.00.

Our Special Olympics Basketball team played their first two games of the season. They won both games!

Students held Student Council and Presidential Elections. Ceyon Wormely is our student council President and Alex Almanza is the Vice President. As far as how the vote (by the students) for the United States President, Kamala Harris won.

We currently have three new students who will be coming to us. One student will start after the Thanksgiving Holiday, and the other two will start after the Winter Break. We also have one student from District 93 who will be returning to the district.

Spirit Days for the month of November were;

- Orange and Black Day
- Bears Day
- Flannel Day

Teacher and Program Assistant evaluations have been taking place. Currently, all teachers being evaluated have completed the first evaluation, and about one-third of the Program Assistants have been completed.

Fast Bridge assessment testing will soon start for the mid-year benchmarking score. We are also preparing for Access and IAR assessment testing and working on several student reevaluations.

Report cards and progress reports were completed and sent out. Parent-teacher conferences were held on November 25th. About one-third of our parents attended in person or online.

PAEC Early Childhood

The Early Childhood program had many things to be grateful for in November. There have been minimal changes in student enrollment or staffing, so this month was very predictable and stable. The children have been able to show definite progress in learning their classroom routines and focus on learning their functional and academic learning targets.

On November 4th, the EC students practiced going through the voting process. We voted on which one was our favorite cookie or cracker. We voted between Goldfish and Chocolate Chip cookies. The Goldfish one by one vote.

On November 19, 2024, we had picture day. Our students did surprisingly well for the photographer.

In honor of Native American Heritage Month, the students made many beautiful art projects resembling Native American artwork, harvest, and food related to the Thanksgiving holiday.

The first through the third week of November, the academic targets were:

COLORS: Green and Black

SHAPES: Oval and Diamond

LETTERS: V, Z, G

NUMBERS: 5 and 6

PAEC Therapeutic Day High School

Academics

On November 25, 2024, we had our Parent-Teacher Conference. Sixty-eight percent of our parents participated in our Parent-Teacher Conference Day. The teachers, paraprofessionals, vocational team, and social workers reviewed their second-quarter progress reports and NWEA MAP Goals. Teachers are getting ready for the end-of-the-semester finals on December 18, 19, and 20.

Happenings

We had our annual Thanksgiving celebration. Donations and staff contributions helped us do this. Mr. Loving's generosity was a valuable part of this celebration. He was able to get donations and cater the festivities. It was exciting for everyone to read what they were thankful for and place their feather on our giant turkey outside the office. Once the students finished this activity, our staff served a full dinner in a to-go box that they could eat with their homeroom class or take home.

Ms. Holsten and Ms. Kural will continue with their annual Holiday Gift Giving. This event is when Ms. Holsten and Ms. Kural partner up with various donors to have thirty families from different communities sponsor thirty PAEC Families in need during the holiday season.

Transitioning Students

We are proud of our three Proviso West Students who are on track to graduate this December. We still have a part-time student at Proviso West and anticipate two more students who may transition at the end of the semester if they continue to meet the criteria.

PAEC Therapeutic Day High School Vocational Program

Our work programs are up and running in full force. The food safety and handling certification is approved, and we will set up the training to take place once we return from winter break. Then we can begin the off-site work training at Smoothie King. Mr. Loving made a new contact, Raquel, who is involved with a Spa business. She made donations to our students of various body care products. We are coordinating a time for her to come to school and talk with students about Esthetician Services and what type of education/training is needed to pursue a career in that field. Mr. Loving also met another contact, Jordan Holwell, who works for Support for Women's Veterans and made large donations of various personal hygiene kits, body lotions, hair products, toothpaste, deodorant, and clothing, including winter jackets.

Ms. Holsten has been busy setting up meetings with various postsecondary institutions. She had a conference call with Colleen Malinowski, who runs the Triton S.E.E.D program which is a certification program offering in-person instruction and employment experiences that are designed to enhance employability skills once students graduate. She has also been in contact with John Korntheuer at Proviso East who is the FAFSA organizer for Proviso 209. He shared with her the dates Proviso is offering FAFSA workshops. Ms. Holsten shared that information with all the senior student's families.

Ms. Holsten secured the Department of Rehabilitation representative for PAEC High School and will be making direct referrals to that program for our seniors as they approach graduation. Ms. Holsten also spoke with Laura Gonzalez at UCP Seguin to discuss their transition program and their services, including PUNS registration. PUNS also services people with autism, so we will be able to refer some of our families to Laura. Maria Pani, from Cook County American Job Center in Maywood, provided a list of job training categories they offer. She will come to PAEC at the beginning of March and provide orientation on their program to the senior students. She will also be at the Postsecondary Career and College fair on March 21st to answer any follow-up questions the students may have about her program.

We have three students graduating in December. One student is starting at Triton in the Spring. One student will continue his job at FedEx while attending RR Trade School courses in the evenings and weekends. The third student will follow up with the American Job Center or Department of Rehabilitation Services.

PAEC Center School

What a month! The elections spurred classroom elections throughout the school. Students participated and were made aware of the election process. Results were hung in the hallways for all to see.

SANDI and FASTbridge assessments were completed on the 19th! We now have a few years of data to measure student growth. ACCESS test materials were pre-ordered for testing in January.

The first round of teacher observations are almost completed.

The Baked Potato fundraiser was held on November 20th. As usual, it was a success and the potatoes were delicious. Students and staff celebrated Thanksgiving on Friday, November 22nd in the classrooms. Everybody is looking forward to having a little well-needed break and to celebrate the holiday with their families.

Teacher conferences were held on Monday, November 25th. AT training, IEP training, and Autism training were held on Tuesday, November 26th.

PAEC Center School Vocational/Transition Program

We currently have 2 students employed competitively. Unemployed students are directed to apply for competitive employment online, in person, or in direct contact with employers. The vocational Coordinator or Transition Staff monitors students via in-person, one-on-one meets, emails, and/or text messaging. When students apply for competitive employment independently, they are instructed to send me screenshots of completed applications. We also keep records of applications, students complete with me and/or staff.

Students who are currently employed are on the chart below:

	Employment	Hours	Job
1	Jewel	20 hours	Bagger/Stocker
2	Goodwill	15-20 hours per week	Store Clerk

Students will volunteer at 6 volunteer job sites this 2024-25 school year, where they will be trained on job skills to increase their job readiness.

We are training our enrolled students to complete job tasks, answer mock interview questions, complete mock job applications, and more. I have set up individual meetings with these students. We are practicing mock interviews and completing mock applications. We inspect IDs to ensure they have not expired or that the student personal IDs get renewed in a timely manner. Students are completing live applications, which we are currently waiting to hear from employers. We are also contacting employers to follow up on our applications.

We are working hard to obtain competitive employment for our students. We continue to interview and follow up with employers to hire our students.

The Coach has successfully transitioned out of the classroom as of 11/26.

Kindergarten Referral 2: The Coordinator has yet to observe students due to high needs in other districts. The student was also suspended but has returned to school. The Coordinator will conduct initial observations as soon as possible.

PAEC Special Olympics

The main focus for the Months of November & December was to ensure that we completed all the paperwork to play in the Region Qualifier to attend the State Basketball Tournament this coming January 2025. We did meet the deadline for submitting an intent to play form, the Basketball Team Rating Form, and the Game Summary Sheet for at least three games before January 18, 2025, to play in the Region Qualifier. As of right now, we have yet to receive all of the background check results for the coaches who will be participating in the Special Olympics Tournament.

The Paec Academy Jr. Tigers have already won three games and are set for a 4th game set for Monday, Dec. 9th at Berwyn Public School. The Pacers, our senior Team, have had some problems finding Teams in our area to set up more scrimmage games. I have contacted teams we have played in the past without any responses. We need at least one more game to play before the Tournament in January. I have received forms for two teams but they are a bit too far to travel during that time of day for a scrimmage game. I will continue to reach out to more teams and if possible be able to get into a Christmas Tournament before the Holiday Break.

In The Basketball Individual Skill Competition, we have three Students involved. This event also provides meaningful competition for athletes with lower ability levels, and athletes who need access to participate on a team. There are three events for the individual skill competition: Target Pass, Ten-Meter Dribble, and Spot Shot. The scores are determined by adding together all scores/points achieved in each event, but this has been a challenge for me to work with them in a regular class setting.

The Goal of Development Programming is to create meaningful involvement and to strengthen our lower-ability athletes, who need modifications due to Behavioral Challenges.
