Monthly Report for the City of Franklin

The following report is activity for the month of May 2025

Dispatch received 114 calls that generated a number in our CAD system regarding activities within the City Limits,

Deputies patrolled 143 hours.

In addition to patrol hours Deputies had 123 hours spent on calls, we have made three arrests, had four traffic complaints, and several animal calls with the goat running around. We have had a lot of time running prisoners back and forth to Lincoln for court appearances on the burglary at Goldeans building. One of the subjects was just sentenced to the Department of Corrections and the other subject is asking for a jury trial at this time.

Sheriff Bryon Detlefsen

For a resident of Nebraska to obtain a new commercial or non-commercial pesticide applicator license, a person needs to do the following:

- Pass a General Standards (core) exam (60 multiple choice questions, 70% passing)
- Pass at least one category exam, tied to the sites or pests you will be controlling
- Complete a license request form
- Pay the appropriate license fee ($90 for a commercial license)

To register for commercial and noncommercial trainings, click here.

For PRIVATE applicator online training, click here.

For information about Pearson VUE testing, click here.

To prepare for these exams, a person should obtain study manuals through the University of Nebraska Extension at pested.unl.edu. A listing and description of categories can be found at: Categories of Commercial and Noncommercial Pesticide Applicators.

UNL Extension also offers Initial Certification training sessions where videos with a review of training highlights may be viewed prior to taking NDA exams. Please note that exams are based off the content of written manuals and NebGuides, not videos.

Exams taken at UNL Initial Training session and NDA Walk-In testing session are mailed to our offices for grading. Please allow up to 3 weeks for results during the months of February- April as we process exams from across the state.

To check on the status of a pesticide applicator exam, please email agr.pesticide@nebraska.gov and include:

- Full Name
- Date of birth
- Date of exam
- Location exam was taken

Once all exams are successfully completed, a billing statement for the license will be issued. An applicator is not considered licensed until all necessary exams are completed and the license fee has been collected and processed.

Licenses expire April 15 of the third year after it is obtained or renewed. Renewal of licenses may be accomplished by:

- Attending an approved continuing education course which includes updates to both General Standards (core) information and category-specific information.
- Complete a license request form.
- Pay the appropriate license fee.

To register for all UNL Initial meetings, go to the UNL Pesticide Safety Education Program site. Registration will begin by Jan. 1, 2025.

To register for all other testing opportunities, click the corresponding link in the table above. In addition to the General Standards exam, categories with * at right are available through Pearson VUE testing sites.

Pesticide Applicator Certification and Licensing

Home / Animal and Plant Health Protection / Plant Health / Pesticide / Pesticide Applicator Certification and Licensing

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) is responsible for the certification and licensing of pesticide applicators in Nebraska. NDA does not regulate the process of applying pesticides in irrigation water (chemigation) or facilities where pesticides are mixed or loaded. These two functions are regulated by the Nebraska Department of Environment and Energy \(NDEE\).

Certification of pesticide applicators is intended to assure that persons who use certain pesticides or who make specific types of pesticide applications have a fundamental understanding of how to do so safely. Pesticide applicator certification is the foundation for the safe and effective use of pesticides.

Pesticides are classified as either "general-use" or "restricted-use." General-use pesticides are considered safe for use by the average person provided they follow the label directions. In most cases, there is no certification or licensing requirements for the use of a general-use pesticide. Two notable exceptions to this rule are the use of structural or lawn care pesticides. In Nebraska, people who apply general-use structural or lawn care pesticides FOR HIRE are required to be certified and licensed as commercial applicators. Additionally, persons who apply any registered pesticide for mosquito control on behalf of a political subdivision of the state must be certified and licensed, typically as a non-commercial applicator.

The Nebraska Pesticide Act specifies that all persons who use a restricted-use pesticide must be licensed by the NDA. The Nebraska Pesticide Act provides for two basic types of pesticide applicator licensing, either a private or a commercial. Currently, the NDA certifies and licenses approximately 22,250 private and 9,250 commercial pesticide applicators. For answers to questions about pesticide applicator certification call the NDA at 402-471-2351.

Private Applicator Certification and Licensing is required of persons who apply restricted-use pesticides in the production of an agricultural commodity. These applications are generally carried out on their own property. Private applicators may apply restricted-use pesticides to the property of others for production of an agricultural commodity provided there is no other compensation than an exchange of services.

To become certified, a private applicator must either attend a private applicator training program sponsored by their local county extension office, complete the self-study materials in coordination with their local county extension office, or successfully complete a private applicator exam administered by the NDA. Private applicators are required to recertify once every three years. To become licensed, a private applicator must be certified and remit to the NDA a $25 fee for a 3-year license. For a listing of private applicator training sites and study materials, visit the University of Nebraska's Pesticide Education Resources page.

Commercial Applicator Certification and Licensing is required of people who make applications of restricted-use pesticides to the land of another for hire. Persons who make structural or lawn care pesticide applications to the property of another for hire are also required to be licensed regardless of whether they use general or restricted-use pesticides.

Commercial applicator certification in Nebraska is divided into various categories. These categories relate to the specific types of pesticide applications made by an individual. Those who may be considered as a commercial applicator are: (1) individuals making applications of restricted-use pesticides to a road right-of-way are required to be certified in Category 07, Right-of-Way Pest Control; and (2) someone making a mouse or roach control pesticide application to a home (structure) would need to be certified in Category 08, Structural and Health Related Pest Control.

Currently, there are 14 categories and four sub-categories of commercial pesticide applicator certification. A brief description of these categories and the specific statutory requirements for each category is provided in the Nebraska Pesticide Act. Additionally, a brief review of each category and the types of pesticide applications each category covers can be found at this web site under Category Examples.

To become certified as a commercial pesticide applicator in Nebraska, an individual must successfully complete a general standards exam and at least one specific category exam. A minimum score of 70% is required to pass an exam. The general category exam addresses the principles pertaining to the use of pesticides, which should be known by all pesticide applicators. Whereas, the category exams address information and material pertinent to specific types of pesticide applications. Once certified, a commercial pesticide applicator must pay the $90 license fee to become licensed. The commercial license is valid for 3 years.

Non-Commercial Applicator Certification is required of people who make applications of restricted-use pesticides to property or commodities under the direct control of their employer on a not-for-hire basis. It is also required by any person performing outdoor vector control on behalf of a community. Non-commercial applicators are certified in one of 14 categories in the same manner as commercial applicators. There is no fee for non-commercial applicator licenses.

At "testing only" sites, only testing is conducted for initial certification, adding categories or recertifying by exam.

Study material for all exams can be purchased from UNL Pesticide Safety Education Program.
