SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Monday, March 10, 2025

The School Board of the Sioux Falls School District 49-5 of Minnehaha County, South Dakota, was called into regular session, pursuant to due notice, on Monday, March 10, 2025, at 4:00 p.m. in the Instructional Planning Center, 201 East 38th Street. Sioux Falls, South Dakota, with the following members present: President Carly Reiter, Dawn Marie Johnson, Nan Kelly, Marc Murren, Gail Swenson. Absent: None.

* * * * *

STC Instructors Laura Cruse and Patrick Frentz shared Southeast Technical College launched its first publication of a literary magazine, Our Story, in Spring 2024. Faculty advisors had copies of the magazine mailed to school board members at the start of the 2024-2025 school year. To align with the strategic goal at STC of academic excellence, we sent the magazine to the REALM group of the National Council of Teachers of English for evaluation. Early in 2025 we learned that REALM gave the magazine a rating of 'excellent.' We were overjoyed to get that feedback for our inaugural issue. We are currently in the final stages of production of the 2025 edition of the literary magazine, which we plan to publish on an annual basis. We expect to send each school board member a copy of the magazine again, once the 2025 edition has been printed.

Southeast Tech
Surgical Technology
Executive Summary

Purpose of Report: To inform the Sioux Falls School Board about the Surgical Technology Program at Southeast Technical College.

The Surgical Technology Program at Southeast Technical College (STC) is a comprehensive, two-year Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree designed to prepare students for careers as Certified Surgical Technologists (CST). This program aims to develop competent entry-level professionals in the cognitive (knowledge), psychomotor (skills), and affective (behavior) domains essential to surgical technology.

Program Overview:

The program offers extensive clinical opportunities, rigorous academic coursework, and simulation-based training to align with the latest standards set by the Accreditation Review Council on Education in Surgical Technology and Surgical Assisting (ARC/STSA) and the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP). With a 65-credit curriculum and hands-on experience in clinical sites up to six hours away, students meet the 120-surgical case requirement and accumulate 656 completed clinical hours before eligibility for the National Certification Exam.

Faculty and Staff:

The program is led by experienced educators, including Program Director Josette Otto, Instructor Annie McGuire, and Lab Specialist Ginger Petersen, along with 8 dedicated adjunct faculty who are Certified Surgical Technologists (CSTs).

Program Highlights and Achievements:

- Increased Enrollment: Approved to increase enrollment from 35 to 48 students.
- Partnerships: Collaboration with Avera Academy, Sanford's Classrooms to Careers, and Build Dakota to provide scholarship opportunities and pathways from classroom learning to careers.
- Simulation Center: A cutting-edge facility that enhances practical learning experiences.
- Community Engagement: Partnerships with organizations like the Sioux Falls Lions Club foster community involvement and volunteerism.
- Special Events: Participation in the Mike Rowe Event for Build Dakota's 10th Anniversary Celebration.

Impact on the Community and Students:

This program is critical to addressing the workforce needs of healthcare institutions in the region by training highly skilled surgical technologists. Students graduate with industry-relevant skills, eligibility for national certification, and valuable real-world experience. By maintaining high academic and clinical standards, engaging with the community, and fostering key partnerships, STC's Surgical Technology Program continues to prepare graduates who are well-positioned to contribute meaningfully to the healthcare field. We look forward to sharing our progress, achievements, and future goals as we expand the program's impact on students and the broader community.

Administrative Recommendation to School Board: Acknowledge the Surgical Technology Program report.

COPYRIGHT COMPLIANCE

Southeast Technical College Policy EGAD/STC

1. Purpose

It is the intent of Southeast Technical College (STC) to adhere to current copyright law. Employees and students of STC are expected to follow copyright law and the copyright procedures established by the President or designee. Any willful violation by students or employees may be subject to disciplinary action. Students or staff who purposefully infringe upon copyright law may be reported to the appropriate authorities and may be subject to criminal or civil penalties.

2. General Statement of Policy

Employees and students are to comply with copyright law (Title 17 of the United States Code, titled "Copyrights") and related legislation. The following guidelines summarize the key provisions of Title 17 of the United States Code and other federal legislation, and guidelines related to the duplication, retention, and use of copyrighted materials.

- Unlawful copies of copyrighted materials may not be produced on STC-owned equipment.
- Unlawful copies of copyrighted material may not be used with STC-owned equipment, within STC-owned facilities, or at STC-sponsored functions.
- Employees who make or use copies of copyrighted materials in their jobs are expected to be familiar with published provisions regarding fair use and public display, and are further expected to be able to provide, upon request, the justification under sections 107, 108 or 110 of USC 17 for materials that have been used or copied. Sections 107, 108 and 110 of the Copyright Act deal with the exemptions from copyright commonly known as "fair use." Under the fair use doctrine, reproducing materials for such purposes as criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching, scholarship or research is permissible without formal authorization from the copyright holder. For duplicating or changing a work to fall within the bounds of "fair use," all four of these standards must be met:
 - The purpose and character of the use. The use must be for such purposes as instruction or scholarship.
 - The nature of the copyrighted work. Published factual or nonfiction materials that are important to the educational objectives are more acceptable to be copied than unpublished works or highly creative works such as art, music, novels or other fiction works, films or plays.

- The amount and substantiality of the portion used. Copying the whole of a work cannot be considered fair use; copying a small portion may be considered fair use if following the guidelines for Books and Periodicals, Printed Music, Television, and/or Multimedia as outlined herein.
- The effect of the use upon the potential market or value of the copyrighted work. If resulting economic loss to the copyright holder can be shown, even making a single copy of certain materials may be an infringement, and making multiple copies presents the danger of greater penalties.

As technology changes the way creative works are published and distributed, the courts have worked to keep up with interpreting the law to establish a fair balance between the rights of creators, publishers, and consumers. The following guidelines for works in a variety of formats have been established by agreements between authors, publishers, and the general public and help to clarify what constitutes fair use. Instructors and students should obtain permission from the copyright holder or from a clearinghouse such as the Copyright Clearance Center for any use of copyrighted material that does not fall clearly within these fair use guidelines.

Books and periodicals

1. Single copying for Instructors

A single copy may be made of any of the following by or for an Instructor at ~~his or her~~ their individual request for ~~his or her~~ their scholarly research or use in instruction or preparation to teach a class:

- a) the copying meets the tests of brevity and spontaneity as defined below: and,
- b) the copying meets the cumulative effect test as defined below; and
- c) each copy includes a notice of copyright

Brevity

- 1) Poetry: a complete poem if less than 250 words OR an excerpt of not more than 250 words if from a longer poem.

Spontaneity

- 1) The copying must be at the request of the individual Instructor.
- 2) The decision to use the work and the time it needs to be used for maximum teaching effectiveness are so close in time it is unreasonable to expect a timely reply to a request for permission to copy.

Cumulative Effect

- 1) The material is copied for only one course in the school.
- 2) Not more than one short poem, article, story, essay or two excerpts may be copied from the same author, nor more than 3 from the same collective work or periodical during one semester.

Printed Music

1. Permissible Uses

- a) Emergency copying to replace purchased copies that are not available for an imminent performance is permissible providing replacement copies are purchased as soon as possible.
- b) Copying for academic purposes other than performance is acceptable as long as the copied excerpts do not comprise a part of the whole that would constitute a performable unit such as a section, movement, or aria. In no case can more than 10% of the whole work be copied. The number of copies shall not exceed one per student.
- c) Printed copies which have been purchased may be edited or simplified as long as the fundamental character of the work is not distorted or the lyrics, if any, altered or lyrics added if none exist.
- d) A single copy of recordings of performances by students may be made for evaluation or rehearsal purposes and may be retained by the school or individual Instructor.

- e) A single copy of a recording of copyrighted music may be made from a recording that is owned by the school or Instructor for the purpose of constructing listening exercises or examinations and may be retained by the school or Instructor.

2. Prohibitions

- a) Copying to create or replace or substitute for anthologies, compilations or collective works is prohibited.
- b) Copying of or from works intended to be “consumable” such as workbooks, exercises, standardized tests and answer sheets, etc. is prohibited.
- c) Copying for the purpose of performance is prohibited (except as in 1a above).
- d) Copying to avoid purchasing the music is prohibited, except as in 1a and 1b above.
- e) Copying without including the copyright notice that appears on the printed copy is prohibited.

Television

1. Recording from broadcast networks (e.g. ABC, NBC, CBS, PBS)

Unless otherwise specified by the individual network, the following limitations apply:

- a) The recording may be retained for no more than 45 consecutive calendar days after the date it was recorded.
- b) The recorded program must be used in ~~face-to-face~~face-to-face teaching within the first ~~consecutive 10~~10 consecutive school days following the date it was recorded.
- c) Programs may only be recorded at the request of, and used by, individual Instructors. No broadcast program may be recorded more than once at the request of the same Instructor, regardless of the number of times the program is broadcast.
- d) A limited number of copies may be reproduced to meet the legitimate needs of Instructors under these guidelines. Each additional copy is subject to the provisions regarding the original recording.
- e) After the first 10 consecutive school days, the recordings may be used up to the end of the 45 calendar day retention period only for Instruction evaluation purposes, i.e., to determine if the program should be purchased for use in the regular curriculum.
- f) Recordings need not be used in their entirety, but the recorded programs may not be altered from their original content. Off-air recordings may not be combined or merged to create Instructional anthologies or compilations.
- g) All copies of off-air recordings must include the copyright notice on the broadcast program.

2. Recording from cable networks

Cable networks often allow recordings to be kept for a longer period of time. Consult the Cable in the Classroom website for the retention period for programs recorded from cable networks.

3. Commercial video recordings

Commercial video recordings sold or distributed for home use must be used for instructional purposes to qualify for the “fair use” exemption. For use to be considered instructional, video recordings

- a) must be presented by Instructors or students and
- b) must be part of face-to-face Instruction and an integral part of the unit being taught and
- c) must be shown in a classroom, library, or similar place of instruction in a nonprofit educational institution.

Any other display of a copyrighted video recording in “a place open to the public or at any place where a substantial number of persons outside of a normal circle of a family or its social acquaintances is gathered” is considered a public performance and requires public performance rights. Public performance rights may be purchased through sources such as Movie Licensing USA.

Multimedia

Portions of lawfully acquired copyrighted works (obtained through lawful means such as purchase, gift or license) may be incorporated into educational multimedia projects for curriculum-based instruction and student projects for a specific course, subject to certain restrictions.

1. Permitted Uses

Educators may perform and display their educational multimedia projects, in the course for which they were created, in curriculum-based instruction to students:

- a) for face-to-face instruction;
- b) for students’ directed self-study; and
- c) so long as the technology limits access and prevents the making of copies of copyrighted material, over the educational ~~institution’s college’s~~ secure electronic network for instruction to students at remote sites enrolled in curriculum-based courses (in real time or for after class review or directed self-study).

Students must be advised that they may not copy the educational multimedia project.

Instructors may perform or display the projects in presentations to peers at workshops and conferences. Students may perform or display their educational multimedia projects for educational uses in the course for which they were ~~created, and~~ created and may use them in their portfolios as examples of their academic work.

2. Time Limits

Instructors may use their educational multimedia projects for instructing courses, for a period of up to two years after the first instructional use with a class. Thereafter, permission is required for each copyrighted portion incorporated in the project. Student’s use of ~~his or her~~ their own project is limited to the course for which it was created and to later portfolio use.

3. Portion Limits

These limits, “in the aggregate” (i.e., on the amount that may be copied from a single copyrighted work), apply cumulatively to each educator’s or student’s multimedia project for the same academic semester, cycle or term.

Motion media: Up to 10% or 3 minutes, whichever is less, in the aggregate.

Text: Up to 10% or 1000 words, whichever is less, in the aggregate. An entire poem of less than 250 words may be used, but not more than three poems by one poet, or five poems by different poets from any anthology may be used. For poems of greater length, 250 words may be used, but no more than three excerpts by a poet, or five excerpts by different poets from a single anthology.

Music, lyrics, and music video: Up to 10%, but in no event more than 30 seconds, of the music and lyrics from an individual musical work (or in the aggregate of extracts from an individual work), whether the music is embodied in copies, or audio or audiovisual works. Any alterations to a music work shall not change the basic melody or fundamental character of the work.

Photographs and illustrations: An entire work may be used but no more than 5 images by an artist or photographer, and no more than 10% or 15 images, whichever is less, from a published collective work.

Copyrighted database or data table: Up to 10% or 2500 field entries (items of information in a record of a database, such as name or social security number) or cell entries (intersections where a row and column meet on a spreadsheet), whichever is less.

4. Limits on Copying and Distribution

For educator and student uses, only two “use copies” may be made, only one of which may be placed on reserve (see paragraph 1 above). An additional copy may be made for preservation ~~purposes, but~~ purposes but may be used or copied only to replace a lost, stolen or damaged use copy. Each principal creator of a jointly created project may retain one copy, for the uses permitted educators and students. Further use requires permission for all copyrighted works incorporated in the project. Educators and students who anticipate their work may be more broadly disseminated are advised to seek permissions during the development process.

5. Notices of Attribution, Acknowledgement and Use Restrictions

Instructors and students should credit sources (identify the work’s source, including where available the author, title, publisher, and date and place of publication) display copyright information (copyright notice, year of first publication, and name of copyright holder) if shown in the original source, for all works incorporated into an educational multimedia project. Such information may be combined and shown in a separate section of the project, except that for images incorporated into the project for permissible remote instruction, credit and copyright information must be attached to the image file and appear on the screen when the image is viewed. If displaying credit and copyright information would conflict with instructional objectives (e.g., would provide answers to examination questions), the information may be linked to the image in a manner compatible with the instructional objectives. Alterations to incorporated portions of copyrighted works may be made only to support specific instructional objectives, and Instructors and students are advised to note if any such alterations have been made. Instructors and students must include on the opening screen of their multimedia project and on any accompanying print material a notice that certain materials are included under the fair use exemption of the U.S. Copyright Law and have been prepared according to the educational multimedia fair use ~~guidelines, and~~guidelines and are restricted from further use.

Online Video Sharing

The Center for Social Media at the American University School of Communication published the Code of Best Practices in Fair Use for Online Video guidelines in May 2009. These Best Practices are intended to help creators, online providers, copyright holders, and others interested in the making, sharing, and posting of online video interpret the copyright doctrine of fair use.

STC recommends that Instructors and students posting and sharing video online observe the six uses of licensed video that the Center for Social Media believes fall under fair use.

- 1. Commenting on or critiquing copyrighted material

As long as the use is not so extensive that it ceases to function as critique but instead becomes a substitute for the work itself, segments of copyrighted material can be “quoted” in new video recordings.

- 2. Using copyrighted material for illustration or example

For instance, clips from Hollywood films might be used to demonstrate changing American attitudes toward race or a news clip of a politician speaking may reinforce an assertion.

- 3. Capturing copyrighted material incidentally or accidentally

For instance, when recording a video, songs playing on the radio or television shows playing in the background may inadvertently be recorded. The video maker should be sure that the use is not so extensive that it becomes the primary focus of interest and that, where possible, the material is properly attributed.

- 4. Reproducing, reposting, or quoting in order to memorialize, preserve, or rescue an experience, an event, or a cultural phenomenon

For instance, someone may record their favorite performance or document their own presence at a rock concert. Someone may post a controversial or notorious moment from broadcast television or a public event. Fair use reaches its limit when the content is reproduced in amounts that are disproportionate for purposes of documentation, or in the case of archiving, when the material is readily available from authorized sources.

- 5. Copying, reposting, and recirculating a work or part of a work for purposes of launching a discussion

The purpose of copying and posting the video needs to be clear so that the viewer knows that the intent of the poster is to spur discussion.

- 6. Quoting in order to recombine elements to make a new work whose meaning comes from the relationships between the elements

Mashups (combining different materials to compose a new work), remixes (reediting an existing work), and music videos all use this technique of recombining existing material. This kind of activity is covered by fair use to the extent that the reuse of copyrighted works creates new meaning by juxtaposition. Fair use will not apply when a copyrighted song is used in its entirety for a newly created video simply because the music evokes the desired mood.

Licenses and Contracts

Instructors and students should determine whether specific works or data used are subject to licenses or contracts, which are not superseded by fair use principles.

- Liability for willful infringement rests with the person initiating the duplication of copyrighted materials.
- Employees who use copyrighted materials that do not fall within fair use or public display guidelines will be able to substantiate that the materials meet one of the following tests:
 - The materials have been purchased from an authorized vendor by the individual or STC and a record of the purchase exists.
 - The materials are copies covered by a licensing agreement between the copyright owner and STC or the individual employee.
 - The materials are being previewed or demonstrated by the user to reach a decision about future purchase or licensing and a valid agreement exists that allows for such use.

Multimedia

~~Portions of lawfully acquired copyrighted works (obtained through lawful means such as~~

Students must be advised that they may not copy the educational multimedia project.

Instructors may perform or display the projects in presentations to peers at workshops and conferences. Students may perform or display their educational multimedia projects for educational uses in the course for which they were created, and may use them in their portfolios as examples of their academic work.

2. Time Limits

Any alterations to a music work shall not change the basic melody or fundamental character of the work.

Photographs and illustrations: An entire work may be used but no more than 5 images by an artist or photographer, and no more than 10% or 15 images, whichever is less, from a published collective work.

Copyrighted database or data table: Up to 10% or 2500 field entries (items of information in a record of a database, such as name or social security number) or cell entries (intersections where a row and column meet on a spreadsheet), whichever is less.

Such information may be combined and shown in a separate section of the project, except that for images incorporated into the project for permissible remote instruction, credit and copyright information must be attached to the image file and appear on the screen when the image is viewed. If displaying credit and copyright information would conflict with instructional objectives (e.g., would provide answers to examination questions), the information may be linked to the image in a manner compatible with the instructional objectives. Alterations to incorporated portions of copyrighted works may be made only to support specific instructional objectives, and Instructors and students are advised to note if any such alterations have been made. Instructors and students must include on the opening screen of their multimedia project and on any accompanying print~~ material a notice that certain materials are included under the fair use exemption of the U.S. Copyright Law and have been prepared according to the educational multimedia fair use guidelines, and are restricted from further use.

Online Video Sharing

The Center for Social Media at the American University School of Communication published the Code of Best Practices in Fair Use for Online Video guidelines in May 2009. These Best Practices are intended to help creators, online providers, copyright holders, and others interested in the making, sharing, and posting of online video interpret the copyright doctrine of fair use.

STC recommends that instructors and students posting and sharing video online observe the six uses of licensed video that the Center for Social Media believes fall under fair use.

1. Commenting on or critiquing copyrighted material

—As long as the use is not so extensive that it ceases to function as critique but instead becomes a substitute for the work itself, segments of copyrighted material can be “quoted” in new video recordings.

2. Using copyrighted material for illustration or example

—For instance, clips from Hollywood films might be used to demonstrate changing American attitudes toward race or a news clip of a politician speaking may reinforce an assertion.

3. Capturing copyrighted material incidentally or accidentally

—For instance, when recording a video, songs playing on the radio or television shows playing in the background may inadvertently be recorded. The video maker should be sure that the use is not so extensive that it becomes the primary focus of interest and that, where possible, the material is properly attributed.

4. Reproducing, reposting, or quoting in order to memorialize, preserve, or rescue an experience, an event, or a cultural phenomenon

—For instance, someone may record their favorite performance or document their own presence at a rock concert. Someone may post a controversial or notorious moment from broadcast television or a public event. Fair use reaches its limit when the content is reproduced in amounts that are disproportionate for purposes of documentation, or in the case of archiving, when the material is readily available from authorized sources.

5. Copying, reposting, and recirculating a work or part of a work for purposes of launching a discussion

—The purpose of copying and posting the video needs to be clear so that the viewer knows that the intent of the poster is to spur discussion.

6. Quoting in order to recombine elements to make a new work whose meaning comes from the relationships between the elements

NEPN Code: EGAD-R

Page 8 of 8

Mashups (combining different materials to compose a new work), remixes (reediting an existing work), and music videos all use this technique of recombining existing material. This kind of activity is covered by fair use to the extent that the reuse of copyrighted works creates new meaning by juxtaposition. Fair use will not apply when a copyrighted song is used in its entirety for a newly created video simply because the music evokes the desired mood.

Licenses and Contracts

Instructors and students should determine whether specific works or data used are subject to licenses or contracts, which are not superseded by fair use principles.

- Liability for willful infringement rests with the person initiating the duplication of copyrighted materials.
- Employees who use copyrighted materials that do not fall within fair use or public display guidelines will be able to substantiate that the materials meet one of the following tests:
 - The materials have been purchased from an authorized vendor by the individual or STC and a record of the purchase exists.
 - The materials are copies covered by a licensing agreement between the copyright owner and STC or the individual employee.
 - The materials are being previewed or demonstrated by the user to reach a decision about future purchase or licensing and a valid agreement exists that allows for such use.

NAMING FACILITIES, PROGRAMS, AND TITLED POSITIONS

Southeast Technical College Policy FF/STC

1. Purpose

Southeast Technical College (STC) seeks private funds to enhance ~~STC's~~the College's ability to meet the higher education needs of its community, particularly toward a level of excellence that would otherwise not be possible given the state funding levels and restraints on student tuition and fees. To that end, STC seeks to provide appropriate recognition to donors for their generosity. This policy establishes guidelines for the naming of facilities, ~~property~~property, programs and titled positions, and ~~property~~ on the STC campus. The policy has been established to assure consistency, fairness, fitting recognition and good value in exchange for the honor or privilege of name association with facilities, ~~or property~~, programs and titled positions on the campus of STC. It serves as a guideline for the STC Tech Council, President, the Directors of the STC Foundation and other staff, volunteers or outside advisors who assist in the solicitation of gifts.

2. General Statement of Policy

Process

The ~~Southeast Technical College~~STC President and STC Tech Council will consider and make recommendations of a proposed naming opportunity to the Sioux Falls School Board, following guidance and recommendation from the STC Foundation and STC Foundation Board. Prior to a recommendation, due diligence will take place to avoid any appearance of a conflict of interest in relation to the naming of a facility. The President shall have reasonable assurance that:

- the proposed name will bring additional honor and distinction to STC,
- the recognition is appropriate for the behavior exhibited by the individual, family, organization, business, ~~corporation~~corporation, or foundation, and
- any philanthropic commitments connected with the naming can be realized.

A naming conferred in recognition of a pledge is contingent on fulfillment of that pledge and will be approved on that condition. The length of time for completion of the pledge will be determined by the President ~~and the STC Council~~ in coordination with the STC Foundation.

The recommendation along with the views of the President and STC Tech Council shall be submitted to the Sioux Falls School Board for consideration. The Board will consider any objections to the proposed name and will act on the recommendation.

Naming Tributes Guidelines

~~Two circumstances give rise to a naming tribute:~~

1. Financial contribution of an individual, family, organization, business, ~~corporation~~corporation, or foundation to STC of a monetary value appropriate to the facility or property being named. Such contributions ~~should~~ must comprise a substantial portion of the cost. ~~If a mixture of public and private funding occurs, the~~ contribution should constitute 40% or more of the cost of ~~the building or property.~~ the private funding amount. This contribution, while not the majority, is integral to project completion. When a philanthropic donation does not meet the full cost of the project, naming is subject to completion of satisfactory funding arrangements from all sources, and the naming will become official only after that is achieved. ~~Any deviation from the "40% policy"~~ "40% standard" requires agreement between STC President, STC Tech Council and School Board with input from the STC Foundation.
2. Naming in Recognition of Distinguished Services may honor a gift of time or talent that has had a significant positive impact on STC over an extended period of years ~~or to the State of South Dakota. This honor will typically be recommended no sooner than three years after the end of the individual's service to STC.~~ The President, or a committee appointed by the President, is charged with determining whether the person proposed is worthy of the honor, as well as the degree of internal and external support for the proposed naming, prior to submitting to the STC Tech Council and ~~on to the~~the Sioux Falls School Board for approval.
3. Naming recognition for a faculty or titled position requires the creation of an endowed fund where the annual dividends should pay 50% of the salary and benefits of the position. The final naming recognition agreement shall have the signatures of the STC President and Donor Entity in consultation with the STC Foundation after approval from the Sioux Falls School Board and STC Tech Council.
4. Naming recognition for a specific program, club, or academic area of study requires creation of an endowed fund where the annual dividends will pay 35% of the annual expenses of the program, club or academic area of study. The final naming recognition agreement shall have the signatures of the STC President and Donor entity in consultation with the STC Foundation and after approval from the Sioux Falls Sioux Falls School Board and STC Tech Council.
5. All other campus naming opportunities such as classrooms, labs, large interior and exterior spaces will be on a case-by-case basis and consistent with this policy.

Physical Property

Sponsorship of physical property on campus through monetary gifts may occur:

- to pay for all or part of a new campus facility or improvement; or

A donor's input shall be taken into consideration in a naming opportunity; however, all naming should meet STC branding specifications. Any deviation requires approval of relevant STC leadership with input from the STC Foundation.~~
- Care and maintenance: the right and responsibility to determine and carry out the exact nature of any ongoing care and maintenance of any physical markers.

Permanency of Names

No naming will be approved or continued (once approved) that will call into serious question the public respect of STC or the Sioux Falls School District. No naming will be approved that would imply STC's endorsement of any political or ideological position. This does not, however, preclude naming property for an individual who has at one time held public office or with the name of an individual or a business/corporation. A naming will generally be in effect for the useful life of the facility. Board action is required to discontinue, change, or alter the name of a previously named facility. Circumstances that may lead to this action may include, but are not limited to:

- Significant renovation or addition to a facility.
 - Action by the named individual, group or company that brings discredit to STC or that ~~compromise~~compromises the public trust.
 - Failure by the named individual, ~~group~~group, or company to fulfill agreed upon obligations.

If none are available, the STC President in consultation with the Foundation Director shall redirect the endowment to a new STC opportunity that is similar to its original charter.
3. An endowed fund can be liquidated to serve the institution in a dire financial emergency. The STC President can liquidate an endowed fund in consultation with the Foundation Director and two thirds vote of the STC Tech Council. Note: endowed funds held at the Sioux Falls Area Community Foundation are not a liquid asset and cannot be liquidated.

All provisions in this policy also extend to the naming of property for a benefactor at the wish of a third party benefactor.

Authority and Approvals

The final authority for any naming, memorial or tribute decision rests with the President and STC Tech Council, with approval by the Sioux Falls School Board. STC reserves the right to consider any and all factors regarding the privilege of name association with STC as particular acts and circumstances warrant. Decisions will be made consistent with the stated mission of STC. The President or designee will maintain and update an inventory of named property.

All named property is property of STC.

These four modalities of instruction Virtual or online courses will be part of STC's educational program delivery system to increase accessibility and flexibility in the delivery of instruction. Distance Education uses one or more of the following technologies to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor or instructors and to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor(s), either synchronously or asynchronously. Technologies that may be used to offer distance education: 1) The Internet, 2) One-way and two-way transmissions through open broadcast, closed circuit, cable, microwave, broadband lines, fiber optics, satellite or wireless communications devices, audio conference or other media used in conjunction with any of the listed technologies.

3. Definitions

Competency-Based (CBEN)

The competency-based education (CBE) approach allows students to advance based on their ability to master a skill or competency at their own pace regardless of environment. This method is tailored to meet different learning abilities and can lead to more efficient student outcomes.

Online Courses

Online course content, activities and assessments are completed in the asynchronous remote environment while meeting established due dates. Students will interact with the course content, instructor and other students in the online asynchronous environment. Online courses will require some assessments be live proctored by the instructor or testing center, either on campus or through remote web conferencing. Student technology and Internet connectivity will need to support online learning, and remote proctoring if student meets remote proctoring criteria.

Hybrid Courses

Hybrid courses interact and meet face-to-face with other students and the instructor during scheduled days/times per week, but the scheduled class time is less than a traditional course. Students are expected to complete activities and assignments outside of the scheduled class time to meet the same course outcomes as in traditional course delivery.

Hyflex Courses

Hyflex courses offer student choice in their participation mode for each class session as defined by the instructor: face-to-face on campus or synchronous online (remote). Some Hyflex courses offer a third option of asynchronous online participation. The availability of two or three options will be communicated by the instructor and noted in course notes at registration. Student technology and Internet connectivity will need to support online learning, and remote proctoring if student meets remote proctoring criteria.
