V. Hearing of Visitors

A. Sarah Rudd

Mrs. Rudd shared about the band classes and the amount of work the kids are putting in and how well they are working together. She invited the board to check out the Interactive Media YouTube channel.

B. Jessica Reeves

Mrs. Reeves talked about the PreACT test the sophomores did this year. She is still waiting on the results. There have been several college reps here already this year .... and more still to come. KAY is preparing for the Veterans Day program.

VI. Old Business

A. Technology Update

Mr. Tharman shared that 20 old iPad have been sold to staff and the remaining ones will be open to the public for sale. The teacher laptops that were purchased this summer qualify for a 40% reimbursement from the Emergency Connectivity Fund. There have been a few issues of Chromebooks not charging and broken screens. The MS students have the Chromebooks, but are not able to take them home at this time.

B. Window Project

37

All of the windows have been installed in the three buildings. They look great and are definitely more energy efficient than the old ones. It will be interesting to see the actual cost savings throughout the coming years. Still have a few windows that need the film added to cover the dropped ceilings and some work around air conditioners.

C. KJUMP

45

Symmetry has finalized their negotiations with KJUMP (the KASB school representatives) and settled on a price for last February's increased heating costs. Our school will be reimbursed $9140.44.

to me, Emily

Mr. Tharman,

If no other Northern Valley staff member has expressed interest in the JH Girls Assistant basketball position, I would be willing to take the position. Thanks for your time.

October 4th

3. I will do JH girls BB assistant under the stipulation that it is for one year and that Mrs. McKinney does it next year. I am afraid of hiring a community member and then taking it away from them if Mrs. McKinney wants the position.

That is all for now.

to me

Proposition if I were to be the assistant junior high basketball coach...

I leave Consumer Economics at 3:45 on the days that the girls are practicing in Almena (at maximum- 22 days this 2nd semester and 17 days the 3rd quarter- I didn't take out any of the days that the HS has games in this count, where most of them will be gone anyway).

According to Mrs. Lowry, they come over at 3:00 with Mrs. Hueneke, start practice around 3:15-3:20 and practice until about 4:30. When the HS starts practice, the HS girls practice in the big gym first and we split the floor on days that we are both there.

When I leave my class at 3:45, they will go down to Mrs. Griffiths for the last 15 minutes. During those times, they will work on a personal finance simulation from budgetchallenge.com. This is a simulation that covers a huge variety of personal finance topics that we would cover at some point in the year. The reviews compare the simulation to driver's ed class...putting the students in the driver's seat so they can figure it out. I will have a schedule of what they are supposed to cover all lined out, week-by-week, and if they are not meeting those requirements their grades will start to show their lack of effort. It is reasonably priced at $30 a student for a total of $180. I understand if the pay needs to be cut since I will be missing out on 25-30 minutes of practice everyday or I will gladly pay for this simulation myself, whatever is best.

This is just an option...
See you tomorrow!!
Amy
