Researcher: Barbara A. Cook, Doctoral Student at Southern Connecticut State University is conducting a study in the high school in the Middletown Schools. The anticipated time frame for project implementation is late May 2013 to early January 2014.

Developing Self-determination in Individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorders

Wehmeyer (2005) and colleagues have found a significant correlation between positive post secondary outcomes and a well developed self-determination. Self-determination skills include the ability to make independent choices, problem solving, goal setting, expressing self awareness, and self evaluation. The purpose of this exploratory case study is to determine the extent to which participant high schools in Connecticut assess and develop self-determination skills in the transition plans and programs for individuals with autism spectrum disorders. The research will seek to understand those factors that support or hinder the assessment, development and/or implementation of goals and objectives that directly address self-determination. It is hoped that through this investigation, school staff and school leaders will have greater knowledge and insight on strategies and supports that may exist or need to be added to their programs to effectively develop self-determination in individuals with autism spectrum disorders.

This study consists of four components. The first component of this study should take place during the spring or early summer of 2013 and will involve reviewing Individual Education Plans of students with an eligibility criteria of autism whose parents have provided consent. The second, third and fourth components of this study should take place beginning in the fall of 2013. The high school principal, school district director of special education, and any high school staff that work directly with individuals with an eligibility criteria of autism will be asked to participate in the second, third and fourth component. The second component will engage each consenting participant in a semi-structured interview, in person, at the participant's school. Open-ended interview questions regarding their understanding of self-determination and those practices in place to assess and develop self-determination will be presented. The third component will consist of an observation of all consenting school based staff that work directly with individuals with an eligibility criteria of autism in up to 5 different settings. The primary investigator will collect anecdotal data of all observed activities. The fourth and final component will be an additional semi-structured interview will be conducted with each consenting participant to provide an opportunity to discuss and clarify the observation data. It is noted that all identifying information will be kept confidential throughout and on completion of this study.

Research Questions

How are high school programs in Connecticut implementing suggested federal and state guidelines and research based practices for assessing and developing self-determination in individuals with autism spectrum disorders?

Monitoring should be minimally two times per week. Spring monitoring on identified student will be as close to May 14 as possible. DDT representatives will share this as soon as possible with their schools (as soon as the log and rubric are sent out by Enza). Math Group – No new strategies were identified, but the Math subcommittee members agreed to use a combination of AIMSweb scores, CMT scores, teacher grades, and recommendations in an effort to offer more students the opportunity to take accelerated math courses. Focus was around review of benchmark data and talking about students who did not show growth from fall to winter. Special focus on free/reduced and special education students, with teachers working at their individual schools to ensure these students are monitored with strategic/progress monitoring in math in their classrooms. There was some discussion regarding equity in mathematics classes regarding the distribution of students. At the high school, progress monitoring is also occurring with individual students that experienced a drop in their winter monitoring. Students are involved in their own monitoring.

CELEBRATIONS – MARCH 2013

Bielefield School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

All Grade 4 classes AIMSweb data shows a 3% or more increase in both literacy and math AIMSweb scores.

Farm Hill School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

The AIMSweb results for our 2nd and 3rd grade students on the R-CBM increased 22% from the fall to the spring due to fluency practice during our guided reading blocks, students graphing their words per minute progress, daily independent reading using a just right book and daily sight word practice.

Lawrence School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

In the winter, more than 80% of students achieved at the average and above level for grades 2, 3, & 4. 73% of students in grade 5 performed at the average and above which is a 2% increase from the fall assessment. This high level of student achievement is due to the following strategies that focus on improving fluency:

- Rereading familiar text
- Timed reading of familiar text
- Teacher modeling fluent reading through read a louds
- Reading passages below instructional level

This achievement is also due to explicit instruction of reading strategies for nonfiction and fiction text. Also, Lawrence teachers are engaging in intense professional development on text complexity, rigor, and Depth of Knowledge.

Macdonough School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

20 of the 41 students (49%) who scored at the “below average” or “well below average” range on the AIMSWEB RCBM Fluency Measure are participating in a before school academic support program. This support program combines parental involvement, small group instruction, and increased time on task for these at risk students.

Moody School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

Each grade (2-5) had 86% and higher of their students fall into the average and above average range for the winter R-CBM benchmark.

Snow School Celebrations for RCBM - District Data Team March 2013

Grade 2: When comparing fall to Winter RCBM scores, students improved their number of words read correctly by an average of 23.7 words.

Grade 3: When comparing fall to Winter RCBM scores, students improved their number of words read correctly by an average of 25.9 words.

Grade 4: When comparing fall to Winter RCBM scores, students improved their number of words read correctly by an average of 17.9 words.

Spencer School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

In the fall, we had identified 55 students in need of tiered intervention in grades 1-5. Of those 55 students, 33 were below goal in Fountas and Pinnell (22 students were at goal). After receiving tiered intervention, the number of students at goal increased to 35/55. For the students who did not meet goal, all improved in their Fountas and Pinnell scores, except for 3*.

GRADE	# of Students Receiving Intervention	# and % of Students moving to goal on Winter Assessment	# and % of Students demonstrating 1 or more level of growth
1	17	10/17 = 59%	16/17 = 94%
2	10	6/10 = 60%	9/10 = 90%
3	7	3/7 = 42%	7/7 = 100%
4	11	8/11 = 73%	11/11 = 100%
5	10	5/10 = 50%	9/10 = 90%
Totals	55	32/55 = 58%	52 = 95%

*# of students who stayed the same = 2 or 3%

*# of students who declined = 1 or 2%

- R-CBM Data by School did not provide any significant gains and provided many areas of concern
- Additional data analysis was completed to better understand the results
- Data errors were identified:
 - Students had missing SASID numbers and were not included in the totals
- IDT meetings shared results
- Students that are close to goal were identified
- Additional strategies reviewed and are being implemented to improve Tier 1 instruction
- Data analysis done on AIMSweb results:
 - Comparison created to identify the average gain from Fall to Winter
 - Data sorted by whole grade, Tier 1 students and Tier 2-3 students
 - Two grades (Grades 4 & 5) exceeded the average expected AIMSweb gain
 - Three grades (Grades 2, 3, & 4) had Tier 2-3 Intervention students exceed the average gain of the Tier 1 students

Keigwin School Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

School		Grade 6
		Average	Average and Above
Keigwin	Fall	42%	59%
	Winter	49% (+7)	69% (+10)
	Spring

Keigwin Grade 6 students increased by 10% on the AIMS WEB Math Concepts and Applications Benchmark from 59% at average or above average in the fall to 69% in the winter.

This 10% increase on the MATH CAP can be attributed to the following strategies:

All math teachers have students practice a word problem of the day to practice critical thinking and problem solving that mimicked some of the concepts that are expected on the benchmark. These are daily entrance tasks that they complete as they enter their math class. As a result students were much more comfortable completing the MCAP timed benchmark in the winter. The math classroom teachers also conduct small group instruction for Math Tier II students at least three times a week in their math double block periods that specifically target math concepts and applications.

In addition, our intervention teacher sees approximately 20 students in Tier III math intervention consistently used probes every two weeks to progress monitor these students. Each student has individual strategies in place to specifically target their deficiency based on these probes. Each of these students showed incremental growth since September and growth on the MCAP benchmark.

WWMS/Grades 6-8 Mathematics Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

In Grades 6 & 8 data shows that students who were below average and well below average were moved into the average or above average areas.

For Grade 7 there was a 5% increase in students performing above or well above average.

In Algebra 1 there was a 7% increase in students performing above or well above average.

MHS Celebrations for District Data Team March 2013

Discipline data shows that March 2013 compared to March 2012 and March 2011 shows half as many incidents.

Explanation of Financial Statement March 31, 2013

The Projection Column is an estimate of the end of year balances in light of information that was available at the time this report was compiled.

Salary Lines are showing a projected deficit of $38,444 at this time. The certified salaries are showing a balance of $114,520. The long-term sub line continues to be a deficit due to staff out on medical leave. The projected deficit in the classified salaries line has decreased by approximately $65,000. Maintenance and Plant Operation overtime has been reduced and there is currently a custodial and a secretarial vacancy. There is a projected deficit in paraprofessional salaries due to Special Education, and lunch duty aides. The cafeteria is still projecting a deficit of $150,000.

The Employee Benefits are showing a projected balance of approximately $635,329 at this time. This figure includes a projected balance in health insurance for certified and paraprofessional staff and a projected deficit in the employee assistance program, FICA, and Medicare lines.

There is a projected deficit of $69,765 in Purchased Services at this time due to the cost of providing speech, hearing and language services, the anticipated cost of the interim facilities director, and the cost of outside contractors for snow removal. A projected surplus is anticipated in the transportation line due to credits that include two green busses.

There is a projected balance in Supplies and Materials of $168,997 due to central office not releasing the 15% reserve funds and the anticipated balance in the electricity, gas and fuel oil. There is an anticipated deficit in the diesel fuel line due to the cut made to this line when the budget for fiscal year 2012-2013 was adopted.

Equipment and Replacement Maintenance Accounts are not showing a projected balance or a projected deficit at this time.

Dues and Fees are showing a projected deficit of $8,520 at this time due to the cost of the audit fee and memberships.

Tuition Accounts are showing a projected deficit of approximately $353,266. The Special Education out-of-district tuition deficit is approximately $205,579 and we have received 75% of the Excess Cost Sharing Grant. The magnet school tuition deficit is approximately $147,687.

The overall projection of Board of Education funds, as of this date, shows an anticipated balance of approximately $334,331. Please note we have three months of the school year in front of us and the projected figures used in this report can change very quickly.

To: Jeff Fournier
From: Bielefield School Governance Council
Re: Technology Initiatives and Subcommittee

Jeff,

As you know, the BSGC has spent the past few months learning about the state of technology in the school, assessing needs, and learning about technology funding through the district. Attached is a proposed plan for developing a subcommittee on technology that includes a partnership with our school PTA which will allow us to fundraise through a 501(c)3 organization. We have taken the initial steps toward this goal in establishing that relationship and have received a donation for $5000 from the Davenport Hatch Foundation in Rochester, NY to help us begin acquiring the equipment.

The attached plan is submitted for your review and submission to Superintendent, Patricia Charles, PhD. It outlines our plan for a sub-committee and defines the relationship with the PTA. As you know, our intention is to work closely with the District Technology Coordinator to procure supported equipment that aligns with district requirements. We understand the need to work in cooperation with the District.

We are very committed to assisting the school, particularly in these very troubling financial times where the spirit of teamwork and cooperation is paramount to the school's success.

Please feel free to provide my contact information to Dr. Charles or others who may have more questions about this plan.

Proposed Bielefield School Technology Initiatives

The Bielefield School Governance Council has prioritized improving school technology with emphasis on those technologies that can have the greatest impact with the least resistance and that require the least amount of training.

Interim District Technology Coordinator, Michael Skott, provided detailed information regarding the specifications of equipment that can be accepted for donation as well approved methods for school-initiated technology funding.

With feedback from teachers and administrators, the council has embarked upon the first project initiative: provide a combination of projectors, document cameras, and possibly mimios to up to 5 classrooms. In order to best implement the plan, the council has developed a survey that will be distributed to teachers. We wish to best understand their needs.

Projectors and Peripherals:

Raise funds for a combination of projectors and document cameras or mimios for classrooms. Proper management of this project will include:

- Establishment of a sub-committee to manage the project including someone willing to serve as chair. This includes the necessary paperwork and district approval process.
- Development of a communication plan as a means to share the goals and progress of the project.
- Letters of appreciation to donors. Perhaps a thanks from each grade as completed. In addition, we need to provide tax deductible documentation for individual donors.

Financial Governance:

The Governance Council has embarked on a partnership with the Bielefield PTA to facilitate fundraising for the effort. The PTA has agreed to create a line item in the budget for technology at a special meeting called on January 29, 2013. This item will be the account to which money can be received toward this effort. The PTA's status as a 501(c)3 entity will allow donations to be tax deductible for donors. Additionally, the PTA has the required infrastructure to support fundraising initiatives.

The Governance Council will assume responsibility for fiscal management in the form of record-keeping, documentation, and requests for disbursement of funds. Accounting of monies received, donors, technology purchased, and deployed will be documented and shared with the PTA.

The PTA will review the relationship annually as part of its budget approval process.

The PTA received its first donation from the Davenport-Hatch foundation in the sum of $5000 on February 26, 2013. This money will go toward accomplishing most of the initial goals of the project.

Roles and Responsibilities:

In order to run the project, the Governance Council will appoint individuals to serve in various roles including financial management, project documentation and fundraising and communications. Collectively, these roles will be responsible for documentation of expenditures and appropriate allocation of funds.

Possible future initiatives:

Depending on the success of the above, the following are other projects which may be undertaken by the technology subcommittee.

Donated Computers:

Develop a means for communicating with the school community what requirements are needed for donated desktops. Develop a campaign that includes how to donate and develop a committee for reviewing equipment, communicating with the district technology team, and submitting for approval. This would be an ongoing campaign. Communication and marketing are important to relaying what can and cannot be accepted. Inclusion on technology initiatives web page.

Wireless:

This is a more aggressive initiative that requires a lot of district coordination. Wireless that adheres to the Districts desire to have a centrally managed system is important.

Community Relations

Students/Community

Non-School Activities and Public Performances by Students

The Board of Education recognizes that worthy educational values may be served by student participation in civic and community affairs when such performances contribute to the educational process and objectives of that particular class and when they do not interfere with other classes or activities within the school. Student participation in appropriate civic and community affairs is encouraged. School groups and individuals may, with the permission of school administration, participate in local public events which fall into the following classifications:

1. Events sponsored by the schools. Educational events in which the school serves as host shall have priority.
2. Community functions organized in the interests of the school, such as those originated by the P.T.A/O. or other parent group.
3. Noncommercial civic occasions of community, county, state, or national interest of sufficient breadth to enlist general interest and cooperation.
4. Events that are primarily patriotic in nature, such as Veterans Day.
5. Charity benefit activities, provided such activities have been specifically approved in advance by the superintendent.
6. Programs sponsored by established character-building agencies, or programs sponsored jointly by the school system and mass communication media, of a public nature.

School groups may not participate in events in any of the following classifications: In questionable cases such requests for participation shall be referred to the Superintendent of Schools for review and approval:

1. Events that are for the purpose of private gain or for the advertising of any commercial project or product. A school name, the names of school-sponsored groups or school equipment shall not be exploited in commercial events.
2. Events that are for the furtherance of any politically partisan interest.
3. Events that further any specific religious concern.
4. Events which place undue burden on resources, facilities or personnel, interference with regular school programs, or which cause excessive absences from rehearsals or preparation.

Distribution of Materials by Students

Printed and/or electronic materials approved by the Superintendent or his/her designee and at his/her discretion may be distributed to parents electronically or by students as an inexpensive means of mass communications providing:

1. The materials relate to the school, community, local recreational or civic activities.
2. The materials do not relate to any religious belief or activity, or promote private gain, or political position.

Requests from parent-teacher organizations, Board appointed citizens' ad hoc advisory committees, or other school-connected organizations and requests from groups or individuals to have students distribute materials parents or other citizens of the community will be referred to the Superintendent of Schools or his/her designee for approval.

Acting on behalf of the District and not as individual residents, school personnel or Board of Education members, whether through students or otherwise, may only provide information on the time, date, and location of the referenda and may not advocate positions on the referenda questions.
