Investigations and Arrests by Police
or Other Law Enforcement Officers

Police or other law enforcement officers may be called to the school at the request of school administration, or may initiate contact with the school in connection with a criminal investigation. Contact between the school and law enforcement authorities on matters involving students shall be made through the office of the superintendent or principal and the law enforcement officer.

Law enforcement officers may talk to a student away from the school before or after school hours, and they should be encouraged to do so. Law enforcement officers shall be allowed to conduct an interview at the school only when the interview is conducted at the request of the school or when they can show that special circumstances exist. This determination should be made by the appropriate building principal or superintendent. Law enforcement officers should be permitted to interview students on school grounds only after providing the superintendent or appropriate building principal with a statement in writing that the law enforcement officer has reason to believe and does believe that the student is the victim of child abuse or neglect perpetrated by the child's parent(s) or some other member of the child's immediate family or household, and that the law enforcement official wishes to interview the student regarding such abuse or neglect.

Throughout this process, all attempts should be made to avoid embarrassing the student before his or her teachers and peers, and to avoid disrupting the student's and school's education program.

1. Law enforcement officers should be permitted to take custody of a student if they possess an arrest warrant or if they otherwise assert a lawful basis for doing so. Whenever possible, the arrest or release of the student should be conducted in the building principal's office and out of the view of other students. When a principal or other school official releases a minor student to a law enforcement officer for the purpose of removing the minor from the school premises, he or she shall take immediate steps to notify the parent, guardian, or other responsible adult regarding the release of the minor to the officer and the place to which the minor is reportedly being taken, except when a minor has been taken into custody as a victim of suspected child abuse. If the law enforcement officer indicates that the child is being taken into custody because the child is the victim of suspected child abuse, the principal or other school official shall, as a condition of releasing the student to the law enforcement officer, require the officer to sign the statement appended hereto certifying that the child is being removed from school premises because he or she is believed to be the victim of child abuse and that the officer understands and will comply with the legal requirements of NEB. REV. STAT. § 79-294.

2. Law enforcement personnel shall not be allowed to roam about the school until the student is found, and shall remain in the administration office while school personnel seek the student.
3. If possible, the education program of the student should not be disrupted to allow for police questioning of the student during class time.
4. Any questioning by law enforcement officers that is permitted should be conducted in a private room or area where confidentiality can be maintained. This should be an area removed from observation by or contact with other pupils and school personnel.
5. If law enforcement officers are to be allowed to question a student under the age of 18, the principal or school official shall make a reasonable attempt to notify the child's parents before questioning begins, except in cases of suspected child abuse or child neglect involving the parent or other family member. The parents should be given the opportunity to come to the school prior to the questioning.
6. If the parents are notified and are able to attend, they should be allowed to be present at the interview. The principal or designee should be present at the interview, but should not take part in any questioning. The principal or designee should remain a neutral observer at all times.

Investigations, Arrests, and Other Student Contact by Law Enforcement and Health and Human Services

The school district and its administrators and staff desire to maintain a positive working relationship with law enforcement officers and other representatives of governmental bodies in the discharge of their duties. However, this desire must be balanced against other equally important factors such as a student's legal rights, ensuring that a student's time spent in school is for education, and acknowledging that the school stands in loco parentis to the students.

"Law enforcement officer" means police officers, county sheriffs, state patrolmen, Health and Human Service workers, Child Protective Services workers, Office of Juvenile Services workers, probation officers, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents, Federal Bureau of Investigations agents, or any other government investigatory workers.

"Parent" means the biological or adoptive mother or father, guardian, responsible relative, or any other person who has claimed legal or actual charge or control of the student pursuant to Nebraska law or Title 92 Nebraska Administrative Code Chapter 19.

Law enforcement officers are encouraged whenever possible to talk to a student away from the school before or after school hours so as to cause as little disruption as possible to the student's education.

Law enforcement officers may be called to the school at the request of school administration, or they may initiate contact with the school for their own purposes. Contact between the school and law enforcement officers on matters involving students shall be made through the office of the superintendent or building principal and the law enforcement officer. All reasonable attempts should be made to avoid embarrassing the student before his or her teachers and peers, and to avoid disrupting the student's and school's education program. Any questioning by law enforcement officers that is permitted should be conducted in a private room or area where confidentiality can be maintained. This should be an area removed from observation by or contact with other pupils and school personnel.

School staff shall promptly notify the superintendent when a student is questioned, arrested, or removed from school grounds by law enforcement officers.

School Related Criminal Activity

This section applies to alleged or suspected criminal activity that occurs on school grounds; in a vehicle owned, leased, or contracted by a school being used for a school purpose or in a vehicle being driven for a school purpose by a school employee or by his or her designee; or at a school-sponsored activity or athletic event.

Law enforcement officers will be allowed to contact and question students at school regarding school related criminal activity as provided below.

The building principal must be notified before a student may be questioned in school or taken from a classroom by law enforcement. The building principal should request identification of the officers, their affiliation with the identified law enforcement agency, and whether their purpose is to interview, interrogate, or take custody of the student.

The building principal will contact a student's parent for their consent and/or presence before the student is interviewed. In the event that a parent cannot be contacted after reasonable attempts, the student will not be questioned by law enforcement, unless the officer identifies emergency circumstances requiring immediate questioning. A building principal or designee shall be present for such questioning solely to further school purposes or avoid duplication of the investigative process. The student will be brought to a private room and the contact will be made out of sight of others as much as practicable.

If the student is suspected of criminal activity, it is the responsibility of the law enforcement officer to advise a student of his or her rights against self-incrimination.

The building principal shall document steps taken to notify parents, summarize the law enforcement activities, identify the actions taken by the District on behalf of the student, and any further contacts with law enforcement officer.

Non-School Related Criminal Activity

Law enforcement officials may not question students at school.

Taking a Student into Custody

Law enforcement officers seeking custody of a student must contact the superintendent or building principal. The principal will request the arresting law enforcement officer to provide a copy of the arrest warrant, written parental consent, court order, or other document giving authority to take the student into legal custody. If there is no document presented, the principal should obtain the officer's name, badge number identifying the law enforcement agency, date, time, the reason for the arrest, and the place to which the student is reportedly being taken. Whenever practicable, the arrest or release of the student should be conducted in a location and in a manner that minimizes observation by others.

When a law enforcement officer removes a student from the school, the building principal will take immediate steps to notify the parent about the student's removal and the place to which the minor is reportedly being taken, except when a minor has been taken into custody as a victim of suspected child abuse.

Child Abuse and Neglect

When law enforcement officers seek to investigate reports of alleged child neglect or abuse regarding a student, the building principal shall obtain a proper identification from the authorities or officials. If a student interview is conducted on school grounds, the building principal or designee and such other school personnel as appropriate shall observe the interview.

If the law enforcement officer decides to remove the student from school, school officials shall provide the law enforcement authorities with the address and telephone number of the student's parent or guardian. The principal or other school official shall, as a condition of releasing the student to the law enforcement officer, require the officer to sign a statement certifying that the child is being removed from school premises because he or she is believed to be the victim of child abuse and that the officer understands and will comply with the legal requirements of NEB. REV. STAT. § 79-294.

Student Records

Student records will be shared with law enforcement officers only as allowed by state and federal law.

Classroom Observation

First Name Last Name

0 years experience Ravenna Elem.

Observation Date:

02/26/2025

Standard 1: Uses Content Knowledge and Perspectives Aligned with Appropriate Instruction

Indicator 1.2 - The teacher cognitively engages students in the content.

- No opportunity to observe
- 0 - The teacher does not cognitively engage students in the content.
- 1 - The teacher seldom cognitively engages students in the content.
- 3 - The teacher occasionally cognitively engages students in the content less than half of the time, or with fewer than half of the students.
- 5 - The teacher often cognitively engages students in the content more than half of the time, or with more than half of the students.
- 7 - The teacher almost always cognitively engages students in the content and engages almost all the students.

0: • Does not use cognitive engagement strategies* to promote thinking about the content

- Students are not cognitively engaged in the content
- ECE - Does not provide opportunities to learn new skills or content; Does not encourage extension of discovery/play

- 1:
- Ineffectively uses one or more potentially weak cognitive engagement strategies* to promote thinking about the content
 - Only cognitively engages one student at a time
 - ECE - Seldom reviews content; Seldom encourages extension of discovery/play; Few learners are cognitively immersed in learning activities/centers

- 3:
- Uses appropriate cognitive engagement strategies* but not effectively
 - Misses opportunities for thinking about the content
 - Some students are cognitively engaged
 - Many students are minimally cognitively engaged
 - ECE - Occasionally reviews content; Occasionally encourages extension of discovery/play; Some learners interacting with content cognitively some of the time; Some learners are cognitively immersed in learning activities/centers

- 5:
- Uses appropriate cognitive engagement strategies* effectively most of the time
 - Uses specific processing structures with students with some success
 - Most students are cognitively engaged much of the time
 - Recognizes if some students are not cognitively engaged, and tries alternate strategies to increase or maintain students' thinking about content
 - ECE - Often reviews and may spiral content; Often encourages extension of discovery/play; Many learners interact with content cognitively much of the time; Many learners are cognitively immersed in learning activities/centers

- 7:
- Effectively uses cognitive engagement strategies* to promote thinking about the content almost all the time
 - Almost all students are cognitively engaged almost all the time
 - Uses specific processing structures with students with high success
 - Rapidly recognizes if some students are not cognitively engaged, and uses alternate strategies successfully to increase their thinking about content
 - Supports students in monitoring their own levels of cognitive engagement and in employing personal strategies to increase their engagement
 - ECE - Reviews frequently and spirals content; Consistently encourages extension of discovery/play; Almost all learners are cognitively immersed in learning activities/centers

* Cognitive engagement strategies may include advanced organizers, K-W-L charts, share-out, shoulder-partner, connecting instruction/activities with students' lives, showing relevance, using authentic examples, presenting a puzzling problem, and inviting responses from all students.

Remote Learning (RL) Environments

- The teacher provides asynchronous lectures that can include videos/multimedia to convey needed content knowledge.
- During synchronous work, nearly all students are actively engaged in discussing the content or actively working to complete a product that requires them to think about the learning.

Note: There are three distinct types of engagement in the classroom - cognitive, affective, and behavioral. This indicator addresses cognitive engagement only. The other forms of engagement are addressed in Indicators 5.1 and 5.2.

Comments

Standard 4: Teaches for Critical Thinking

Indicator 4.1 - The teacher uses instructional strategies that lead students to problem-solving and critical thinking.

- No opportunity to observe
- 0 - The teacher does not use instructional strategies to promote student problem-solving or critical thinking skills.
- 1 - The teacher seldom uses instructional strategies that require students to problem-solve and think critically.
- 3 - The teacher occasionally uses instructional strategies that require students to problem-solve and think critically less than half of the time, or with fewer than half of the students.
- 5 - The teacher often uses instructional strategies that require students to problem-solve and think critically more than half of the time, or with more than half of the students.
- 7 - The teacher almost always uses instructional strategies that engage almost all students in learning activities to promote problem-solving and critical thinking continuously through almost all the lesson.

0:

- Students are not involved in problem-solving or critical thinking

1:

- Seldom uses questions that demand more than basic recall or mere opinion
- Almost always responds to own questions without wait time for student response
- Uses routine applications of known procedures, or highly guided or constrained tasks

- 3:
- Occasionally uses instructional strategies that require some students to reason, problem-solve, and think critically (e.g., to assess or develop an informed argument, weigh credibility of evidence, justify or evaluate thinking, use cause-and-effect charts)
 - Uses some higher-order questions with skill (e.g., "how do you know?" or "why do others come to a different conclusion?") , but is not consistent
 - May provide opportunities for higher-order thinking (e.g., compare, analyze, infer, evaluate, explain, justify) without appropriate follow-through
 - Mostly uses routine applications of known procedures
 - May provide too much or too little scaffolding for problem solving
- 5:
- Often uses instructional strategies that require most students to reason, problem-solve, and think critically
 - Models critical thinking and steps necessary to problem-solve for students, but misses some opportunities
 - May allow students to problem-solve independently instead of providing step-by-step instructions
 - Implements meaningful learning experiences that require most students to apply disciplinary knowledge to real-world problems
- 7:
- If time allows, progresses fluently through multiple instructional strategies that require almost all students to think critically and problem-solve
 - Consistently requires students to explain or justify their thinking, problem-solve, formulate questions, predict, be creative, or make informed decisions
 - Almost all students consistently engage in individual or collaborative critical thinking and problem-solving, analysis, synthesis, interpretation, and creation of original products
 - Strongly models critical thinking

NOTE: In ECE, critical thinking may involve allowing learners to use materials in unique ways, looking at problems in different ways, generating their own ideas, or actively discovering, investigating, exploring, constructing, and creating. Also, critical thinking may involve letting learners take risks, experimenting, making mistakes, and letting learners lead and then following their lead.

RL Environments

- The teacher consistently requires students to explain/justify their thinking, practice problem-solving skills, formulate questions, predict outcomes, be creative, and/or make informed decisions.
- The teacher provides students with guidance and resources on how to show evidence of critical thinking or decision making.
- The teacher evaluates learning activities to ensure that students are engaged in critical thinking and/or problem-solving skills.

Standard 5: Creates a Positive Classroom Learning Environment

Indicator 5.1 - The teacher uses motivation strategies that affectively engage students.

No opportunity to observe

0 - The teacher does not use motivation strategies that affectively engage students.

1 - The teacher seldom uses motivation strategies that affectively engage students.

3 - The teacher occasionally uses motivation strategies that affectively engage students less than half of the time, or with fewer than half of the students.

5 - The teacher often uses motivation strategies that affectively engage students more than half of the time, or with more than half of the students.

7 - The teacher almost always uses motivation strategies that affectively engage almost all of the students.

- 0:
- No evidence of motivation strategies* in use
 - ECE - Centers do not engage learners

- 1:
- Uses a few motivation strategies* with limited success
 - Uses motivation strategies* in ways that undermine long-term motivation (e.g., sarcasm, threats)
 - Uses gimmicks that distract rather than engage students
 - Students may express boredom or frustration
 - ECE - Centers seldom engage learners or engage few learners; Learners seldom have opportunities to make choices and work independently

- 3:
- Uses motivation strategies* with some success
 - Some students appear moderately motivated some of the time
 - Some students express positive emotions (e.g., interest, excitement, amusement, pride) for the learning activity some of the time
 - Lesson occasionally drags

- ECE - Centers engage some learners some of the time; Learners occasionally have opportunities to make choices and work independently

- 5:
- Uses multiple motivation strategies* with much success
 - Most students appear motivated most of the time
 - Most students express positive emotions (e.g., interest, excitement, amusement, pride) for the learning activity most of the time
 - Some students may be unmotivated, but many are motivated
 - ECE - Centers engage most learners much of the time; Learners often have opportunities to make choices and work independently

- 7:
- Uses multiple motivation strategies* with great success
 - Adjusts and refines use of motivation strategies* based on effectiveness
 - Almost all students appear highly motivated almost all of the time
 - Almost all students express positive emotions (e.g., interest, excitement, amusement, pride) for the learning activity almost all of the time
 - Students may be engaged in self-directed learning
 - ECE - Centers are fully engaging so that learners want to play; Lessons are developmentally appropriate, quick, and relevant; Teacher is enthusiastic

* This indicator emphasizes intrinsic motivation more than external motivation. Research-based motivation strategies may include using interesting materials, providing attractive choice (autonomy), praise (avoiding criticism), pointing out progress, communicating enthusiasm for the content, setting and achieving goals, promoting self-efficacy, and communicating that success is due to effort (not ability). In ECE, setting up centers is foundational and central to the lesson plan. Centers should motivate and affectively engage learners.

RL Environments – For this indicator, it is important to note that whole-class lectures may not keep students motivationally engaged.

- The teacher motivates students by selecting interesting topics, choosing topics that are applicable, allowing for student choice, encouraging students to set goals, and working with small groups and individuals.
- The teacher promotes student confidence by providing detailed feedback to each student.

Note: This indicator refers to positive emotions toward the content or lesson activities. Indicator 5.3b is about positive emotions toward the teacher.

Note: There are three distinct types of engagement in the classroom - cognitive, affective, and behavioral. This indicator addresses affective engagement only. The other forms of engagement are addressed in Indicators 1.2 and 5.2.

Comments

Indicator 5.2 - The teacher manages time, space, transitions, and activities.

No opportunity to observe

0 - The teacher does not manage time, space, transitions, and activities well.

1 - The teacher seldom manages time, space, transitions, and activities well. Time is not used efficiently for most students.

3 - The teacher occasionally manages time, space, transitions, and activities well less than half of the time, or with fewer than half of the students.

5 - The teacher often manages time, space, transitions, and activities well more than half of the time, or with more than half of the students.

7 - The teacher almost always organizes, allocates, and manages time, space, transitions, and activities well. Manages class so fluidly that management is invisible with almost all the students.

- 0:
- No procedures for transitioning or managing time efficiently
 - Most students are on task less than 10% of the time
 - ECE - Learners are not involved in learning activities; No apparent procedures or expectations
- 1:
- A few students are on task
 - Class time is centered on learning less than 20% of the time
 - Does not redirect students who are off-task, or has to stop frequently to redirect because students are unsure of directions
 - Back frequently turned to students; unaware of student behavior
 - Students have to wait for teacher because of poor management or planning
 - Seldom uses strategies* for managing time, space, and transitions
 - Directions unclear
 - Transitions are too long or not relevant
 - Teacher talks about transition, but then does not make transition
 - ECE - Many learners wandering the room; Few learners are involved in classroom routines
- 3:
- Some students are on task
 - Class time is centered on learning about 35-50% of the time
 - Teacher manages time rather than students (i.e., is inflexible in scheduling)
 - Sometimes uses strategies* for managing time, space, and transitions
 - Does not fully minimize distractions or interruptions

- Teacher may change directions too often
- ECE - Some learners wandering the room; Some learners are involved in classroom routines

- 5:
- Most students are on task most of the time and appear to know classroom routines
 - Class time is centered on learning about 65-80% of the time
 - Students know what to do when the bell rings
 - Mostly uses strategies* for managing time, space, and transitions
 - Only minor redirects are needed
 - Transitions between instruction, demonstration, guided practice, and independent practice are fairly smooth
 - ECE - Most learners are involved in classroom routines; Learning occurs during most transitions (e.g., not standing in line doing nothing)

- 7:
- Almost all students are on task.
 - Class time is centered on learning more than 90% of the time
 - Strong evidence that students already know classroom routines and transitions
 - Students appear to be self-directed
 - Always uses strategies* for managing time, space, and transitions
 - Students collaborate on the effective management of time, space, transitions, and activities
 - ECE - Adequate amount of quality materials in room (e.g., realistic, developmentally appropriate); Visual schedules are present and actively used; Transitions are well organized (e.g., with lights, cues, movement, music); Learning occurs during transitions; Learners are busy and active; Learners are involved in routines. Room is warm, inviting, and organized.

* Strategies may include having effective seating structures, having sufficient materials in the room, clearly communicating procedures for entering or finishing work, and clearly communicating behavioral expectations.

Note: There are three distinct types of engagement in the classroom - cognitive, affective, and behavioral. This indicator addresses behavioral engagement only. The other forms of engagement are addressed in Indicators 1.2 and 5.1.

Standard 7: Uses Student Assessment Data to Analyze and Modify Instruction

Indicator 7.4 - The teacher monitors the effect of instruction on the whole class and individual learning.

NOTE: Must take corrective action, if needed and appropriate, to score above a 2.

No opportunity to observe

0 - The teacher does not check the effect of instruction on the whole class or individual learning.

1 - The teacher seldom conducts formative, on-the-spot assessment of learning for the whole class or individual students and does not take needed corrective action.

3 - The teacher occasionally conducts formative, on-the-spot assessment of learning for the whole class and individual students and takes corrective action as needed, less than half of the time, or for fewer than half of the students.

5 - The teacher often conducts formative, on-the-spot assessment of learning for the whole class and individual students and takes corrective action as needed more than half of the time, or for more than half of the students.

7 - The teacher almost always conducts formative, on-the-spot assessment of learning and takes corrective action as needed for both the whole class and almost all individual students.

- 0:
- Does not assess whether students have achieved the lesson objective
 - Does not engage in on-the-spot assessment

- 1:
- Seldom monitors learning progress
 - May superficially use question and answer as assessment
 - Minimal follow-up or checking for understanding
 - Monitors learning somewhat, but does not take corrective action

- 3:
- Occasionally quickly assesses understanding of some students before moving on to the next learning activity
 - Occasionally uses techniques to monitor learning progress (e.g., observing classroom interactions or student work, questioning, thumbs up, fist-to-five, white boarding, exit slips)
 - May monitor progress of the class as a whole
 - If needed and appropriate, some corrective action is taken

- 5:
- Often monitors learning progress of most students
 - Monitors the whole class and many individuals
 - May use multiple checks for understanding
 - Often adjusts instruction using students' responses to questions and discussions, correcting misconceptions, or monitoring other feedback
 - Takes corrective action as needed and appropriate for the class as a whole and most individual students

- 7:
- Systematically monitors learning progress
 - Continuously monitors progress in attaining instructional objectives for the whole class and for each student
 - On-the-spot assessment is seamless throughout instruction
 - Strong, appropriate corrective action is taken to ensure learning of almost all students

In ECE, the same look-fors are applicable across grade levels, but the method of assessment may place greater reliance on informal teacher observation, portfolios, data tracking sheets, and anecdotal notes. In addition, evaluators may want to focus on percentage of time rather than percentage of students. Teachers often cannot assess all three-year-olds at once, although some activities may provide quick checks for understanding among all learners. Assessment should be developmentally appropriate, may involve scaffolding, and be tailored to individual learner's zone of proximal development.

RL Environments

- The teacher consistently gathers data from each student to determine the current level of understanding and then adjusts instruction to help each student progress towards mastery.
- The teacher communicates with every student to ensure understanding of the learning target, the current level of achievement, and what is left to learn or complete in order to reach mastery.
- The teacher employs strategies to monitor individual mastery in asynchronous learning.
- The teacher provides detailed feedback to each student to promote growth.

4030 Evaluation of Certificated Employees

All certificated employees to be evaluated shall be notified annually in writing of the evaluation process. A certificated administrator, with the exception of the local board of education when it is evaluating the superintendent, will observe and evaluate each probationary certificated employee for a full instructional period once each semester and each permanent certificated employee for a full instructional period once each school year. If the probationary certificated employee is a superintendent, he or she shall be evaluated twice during the first year of employment and at least once annually thereafter. The administrator will provide the employee with a written list of deficiencies, suggestions, and a timeline for correcting the deficiencies and improving performance, and sufficient time to improve. The employee may respond to the evaluation in writing.

The school district will train administrators in evaluation annually through meetings with the superintendent or other administrator, attendance at regional, state or national workshops, or any other method approved by the superintendent.

State law and Nebraska Department of Education (NDE) rules require certificated staff evaluations to cover personal and professional conduct, instructional performance, and classroom organization and management. Pursuant to NDE Rule 10, instructional performance and classroom organization and management are applicable to teachers only. The school district evaluates staff in other areas beyond those minimally required by law, as set by the board and administration through their evaluation instruments, which are approved by NDE.

The board is mindful of the fact that not all certificated employees share the same assigned duties, including many staff whose primary duty assignments are not the regular and continuous classroom instruction of pupils. Staff whose primary duties involve the actual instruction of pupils and management of classrooms will be evaluated in those areas noted above, as required by law and NDE rules. Other staff, such as special education and service providers, counselors, and librarians/media specialists, may not have as their primary duty the instruction of pupils, even if they do perform some instructional functions. Pursuant to its obligations to define and inform its employees regarding its evaluation process under state law and NDE Rule 10, and to account for the need to provide quality feedback to all employees which reflects their primary and expected duties actually performed, the board defines the terms "actual classroom observation" and "entire instructional period" as follows:

Entire Instructional Period. For certificated employees whose classes are held during defined periods of time (e.g., senior high classes), an entire instructional period consists of one such time period. For those whose time periods are not so defined (e.g., elementary classroom teachers), an entire instructional period consists of 40 minutes. The instructional period for those employees whose primary duties do not involve regular and continuous instruction of pupils for 40-minute periods (e.g., librarians, media specialists, counselors, or specialists), an entire instructional period consists of observing and evaluating those staff members performing their assigned duties no less than 40 minutes during the semester or year covered by the evaluation. Likewise, the entire instructional period for administrators cannot be defined in terms of an instructional period and shall be satisfied by the actual observation of an administrator's work performing their assigned duties for no less than 40 minutes.

Actual Classroom Observation. Actual classroom observation consists of observing the certificated employee in any activities in a classroom setting, when the employee provides regular and continuous instruction to pupils as their primary duty. When a certificated employee does not have traditional classroom instructional obligations as a primary function of their position (e.g., administrators, counselors, media specialists, librarians, etc.), the requirement of "actual classroom observation" will be satisfied by observing the certificated employee performing activities that reflect the actual, primary duties of his or her position, in the location(s) where they perform those duties. For example, an administrator, media specialist, or counselor may provide some instruction (such as a principal subbing for a teacher; a counselor instructing seniors on completing a FAFSA; or a media specialist demonstrating library skills), but their primary duties are not classroom instruction. Feedback may be provided on those limited instructional activities, but more important to the board is ensuring those employees' evaluations will help them improve their primary duties and not fractional time only when they may be instructing students.

This policy and the evaluation instrument shall be included in the teacher handbook which will be distributed to staff members upon their employment and annually thereafter.

Price quote: This is a price quote for the customer's convenience only, and not an offer to contract. All quotes are subject to review and final acceptance by an authorized representative of Savvas at its offices. Savvas reserves the right to correct typographical, computational or other errors. Savvas' standard payment terms are net 30 days unless otherwise specified. All pricing is in US Dollars unless otherwise specified. Pricing calculations use multiple decimal places to determine the most accurate extended pricing but are represented in standard currency format.

Shipping & handling charges (where applicable) are shown on the quote. S&H rates quoted are for standard ground transportation and may not reflect account contracted rates. If expedited shipping is requested, actual charges may be higher. For orders picked up at the Savvas warehouse by the customer or a third party carrier contracted by the customer, a 2% handling charge will be applied to shippable items. The 2% charge will appear on the customer proposal and invoice as a S&H charge.

Taxes: All pricing in this quote is exclusive of any applicable sales, use or other similar taxes or duties. The customer is responsible for any such taxes or duties that may apply; if the customer is tax exempt, evidence of such tax exemption must be provided. Estimated tax may be provided solely for customer convenience. The amount indicated is only an estimate and is intended to be helpful for budgeting purposes. The actual amount of sales tax assessed at the time of invoicing may be more or less.

Platforms: Savvas, and any third party for which Savvas serves as the sales agent or distributor, reserve the right to change and/or update technology platforms, including possible edition updates to customers during the term of access. Customers will be notified of any change prior to the beginning of the new school year.

Damaged & Defective Products: If a print product, or the print component of a blended (print & digital) product, is received in damaged or defective condition, Savvas will issue a credit or replacement at no charge to the customer if the customer promptly (no later than 120 days) returns the damaged or defective product. Customers must report missing product immediately upon receipt.

Return Policy: Returns (other than damaged or defective products) are subject to the following conditions: (a) materials must be returned to Savvas at the customer's expense in new, unused condition, suitable for resale by Savvas (note that any barcoding, stickering, stamping or similar marking on any print materials renders them unsuitable for resale); (b) materials must be returned within six (6) months from the date of purchase; (c) the customer must obtain a Return Materials Authorization ("RMA") from Savvas prior to returning the materials, and must ship the materials back to Savvas within thirty days of receiving the RMA; (d) all materials sold in a set or package must be returned complete as originally sold; and (e) any materials provided by Savvas to the customer on a no-charge basis in consideration of the customer's purchase must be returned in proportion to the purchased materials that are being returned for a credit. A restocking fee of 3% may be applied to credits over $1,000. Savvas' return policy does not apply to science lab kits or trade publication novels, which are sold on a non-returnable basis.

Consumable Worktexts: Subsequent year consumable worktexts will ship each year on the anniversary of the original order date for the duration of their license. Worktexts will ship to the location listed on the original order. Quantities for each grade level and title will remain consistent each year. Changes to quantities of titles previously ordered, shipping location changes, or any other changes to consumable worktext shipments must be made 4 weeks prior to shipment date. (the anniversary of the original order date unless changed). Changes can be made on the Subscription Worktext Site: <https://worktext-subscriptions.savvas.com>

Floor Activity Update

LB 135 (Holdcroft) once again appears on the General File agenda for Monday, March 10th. The bill, relating to restrictions for use of special elections for bond issues, is the fourth measure on the list.

However, ahead of the General File agenda on Monday is the resumption of a battle on Final Reading. LB 229 (Hallstrom) was set for passage last week, but was the subject of a rare filibuster on Final Reading led by Senator Conrad.

LB 229 would add workers who use technical applications for marketplace network platforms, such as Uber and Lyft, to an existing list of workers who are classified as independent contractors and are excluded from the state's Employment Security Law.

Senator Conrad filed a motion to strike the enacting clause, which would effectively kill the bill. The battle over LB 229 resumes on Monday morning beginning at 10:00 a.m. (CT).

Other Floor Activity

Advanced to General File

Legislator Pay Bill: The Executive Board advanced and prioritized LR 25CA (Hansen) by a 9-0 vote. The white copy committee amendments (AM526) replace the original contents of the resolution. If approved by the Legislature, the constitutional amendment would appear on the 2026 General Election ballot.

Beginning January 3, 2029, the compensation of the members of the Legislature would be established by a nonpartisan, independent legislative compensation commission established by law. The commission would have the latitude, established in subsequent law, to set the compensation of members of the Legislature.

January 3, 2029 is the first day of the 2029 Session. The commission, if approved by the voters, would have two years to establish compensation for lawmakers beginning for the 2029 Session. The current salary of $12,000 was approved by the voters in 1988.

Retirement Bill: The Retirement Committee advanced and prioritized LB 295 by a 6-0 vote. LB 295 makes technical and substantive changes to all five state sponsored retirement plans (School Employees, Judges, State Patrol, State Employees, and County), but it also includes provisions related to the Class V (OPS) Plan.

This bill has some very important changes to the School Employees Plan. Please read the updated NCSA bill summary to review the proposed changes.

One of the proposed changes in LB 295 would extend the retirement application deadline under the School Employees Plan from 120 days prior to the effective date of the member's initial benefit to 270 days prior to the effective date of the member's initial benefit.

Labor Organization Membership: The Business and Labor Committee advanced a controversial measure, LB 353, to General File by a 4-2 vote.

LB 353 (Lonowski) provides that a labor organization representing public school employees or employers of public school employees may not, as part of any membership contract entered into or renewed after the effective date of the bill, place any restriction on when a public school employee may join or terminate membership in a labor organization.

Advanced to Select File

Student Cell Phones: LB 140 (Sanders, at the request of the Governor) was advanced to Select File by a unanimous 44-0 vote.

The bill requires school districts to adopt a policy regulating student use of electronic communication devices (such as cell phones) on school property or at school functions by the 2025-26 school year. The policy must be created with input from students, parents, and educators and may include rules on discipline and enforcement. However, it cannot prevent device use in certain situations, such as when required by a student's IEP or 504 plan, when authorized by a teacher for educational purposes, during emergencies, for healthcare management, or when deemed appropriate by school authorities.

The committee amendments (AM203) were adopted prior to advancement. The amendments ensure that the bill applies to all electronic devices, not just cell phones. Additionally, the restrictions relating to instructional school functions, and the authority to permit device use for educational purposes rests with the school district, not individual teachers.

Passed by the Legislature

Employment Security Law: The Legislature passed LB 197 by a 47-0 vote on March 6th and presented to the Governor for consideration.

LB 197 (Storm) amends the Employment Security Law to allow the Nebraska Department of Labor (DOL) to adjudicate claims for unemployment insurance benefits through other means than by a claim adjudicator. LB 197 also allows DOL to reconsider a determination of benefits if an audit conducted as part of the benefit accuracy measurement program finds an error in the original determination of benefits.

Juvenile Education Assistance: The Legislature passed LB 296 by a 48-0 vote on March 6th and presented to the Governor for consideration.

LB 296 (Arch) requires NDE to create a centralized education records system by July 2026 for students under the jurisdiction of the juvenile justice system, ensure the prompt transfer of education records for students to other educational providers through the system, and award academic credit when needed.

This bill seeks to amend various provisions related to education, with a focus on improving support for students under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, enhancing high school diploma issuance processes, and modifying NDE's Improvement Grant Program. The bill further requires the Commissioner to employ registrars to manage and oversee the system as prescribed in the bill. Finally, the bill provides the Commissioner with authority to grant a statewide diploma for students, under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, as outlined in the bill.
