Where are we headed?

1. Increased donor identification and cultivation.
2. Increased focus on matching program needs with donor interest.
3. Focused stewardship.

“Passion comes first. Unless a donor finds an issue that they connect with, a ‘hook’ that helps them to engage, giving money away can sometimes feel like a duty. Helping donors to work out exactly what they care about and what they want to achieve is the first part of the process.”

Building bridges to student success

Update of activities of the Corvallis Public Schools Foundation

Our mission

To unite private donors and educators in a common effort to provide resources for the Corvallis School District.

Our vision

To be a trusted partner and to positively impact all students in Corvallis public schools.

Our values

Our organizational values are reflected in all of our activities. We are student focused, donor centered, collaborative, and transparent.

What we do- bridging the gaps

Our activities for the 2013/14 school year have centered on bridging funding gaps by connecting additional resources to schools, joining the school district as a partner, and continuing the high school intervention programs initiated last year. Our current funding enables high school interventions, classroom grants, support for students in need, school directed fundraising, fiscal support for school fundraising, college scholarships, educator recognition and professional development.

Connecting resources to schools

- Student Opportunity for Success

$25,000 funding distributed to all schools for non-academic support (emergency health and hygiene, specialized supplies)

- School Directed fundraising

$238,626 in designated school donations accepted as of March 31.

Current impacts – Future Focus

Through our partnerships with donors and other community stakeholders, the Corvallis Public Schools Foundation is helping to expand educational options, remove barriers to full participation in school, and offer targeted support of new instructional strategies. Current assets are slightly more than $1.1 million as of March 31, with the majority of those funds designated for specific programs and schools.

The Board of Trustees has been actively engaged in managing the assets of the Foundation, reviewing and updating policies, recruiting new members, and refining a strategic path for fundraising. We are in transition to a more donor centered approach to fundraising and our focus in the coming year will be to increase donor identification and cultivation activities, build a project pipeline for donor funding opportunities, and provide more focused stewardship of donor relationships.

We appreciate the continued support of the Corvallis School District and thank you for your work on behalf of Corvallis students.
